

Izza Joy C. Dela Rosa
TCM-2K4

Title: A Holy Week Series

In the moment of Holy Week, where we commemorate the death and resurrection of our Jesus Christ I form myself by reflecting on the life of Jesus Christ.

It began on Palm Sunday unfortunately I didn't have to attend mass on this day but I know there is an activity on waving palm branches, that commemorates Jesus' triumphant entry into Jerusalem, where crowds welcomed him by waving palm branches and proclaiming him as the Messiah. It marks the beginning of Holy Week.

On Maundy Thursday, I attended mass here in our province, Also known as Holy Thursday, this day serves as the Last Supper, where Jesus shared a final meal with his disciples before his crucifixion. I also witnessed the institution of the Eucharist (Holy Communion) and the washing of the disciples' feet, symbolizing humility and service.

In Good Friday I am at the house only at this solemn day with my family having a traditional dish of us Filipinos as every holy week came the "binignit", at this day also we are contemplating the death of Jesus Christ on the cross, on the sacrifice Jesus made for humanity's salvation with fasting and prayer.

As Holy Saturday arrives, in the evening I attended a mass called Easter Eve. This day is a time of anticipation and waiting for the celebration of Jesus' resurrection. It is a day of vigil and prayer.

Finally, Easter Sunday has come, this is the culmination of Holy Week and the most important day for us. On this day jointly with my family we had a family bonding on the beach and had fun as Jesus Christ is Alive!

Lessons that would be gained in the holy week is the sacrifice, humility, forgiveness, faith, and renewal through reflecting on Jesus' journey to the cross. Throughout this sacred week, faith is tested and strengthened, as we are called to trust in God's plan even in the midst of uncertainty. The holy week's message is to have a time of renewal and transformation, renew our commitment to faith, and embrace the profound implications of Jesus' sacrificial love.